Growing Ideas About the Characters As We Read

In reading workshop, we have been working on paying close attention to the characters and the things we can learn about them from the clues in the story. We have learned to walk in their shoes, think like they think and have empathy to help us feel how they may be feeling.

Directions: Choose a character from one of the books we have read aloud on this page. Think about this character and the things you learned about them through the read aloud. Below, write 4 - 5 sentences that describes this character. Be sure to prove your thinking with evidence from the text.
